Department of Music
Keyboard Studies for Music Majors (“Keyboard Skills”)
Updated in June 2015

All music majors, with the exception of piano majors, at TCNJ are required to complete several levels of keyboard study depending upon one's major as follows:

BA Major: Keyboard Skills I, and II (MUS 111, MUS 222)

BM Major in Instrumental Performance and Instrumental Music Education: Keyboard Skills I, and II (MUS 111, MUS 222)

BM Major in Vocal Performance, Vocal Music Education, Guitar/Choral Music Education: Keyboard Skills I, II, and III (MUS 111, MUS 222, MUS 233)

In addition, all music majors are required to successfully complete the Keyboard Proficiency Exam (MUS 330) in prior to 1) an application for one's student teaching, or 2) one's graduation depending upon one’s major.

The standard sequence is to start Keyboard Skills I during the second semester of one’s study. Students who have prior experience at the keyboard may take a placement audition to gain advanced standing. The placement audition is given during the orientation week in summer and in January during the first week of the second semester. Students will be given only one chance to take the placement audition: a re-examination is NOT available at other points in the program of study.

Who Should Take the Placement Audition?

Those students who have had a substantial background both in keyboard (or piano) study and music theory may attempt the placement exam, which could advance them into Keyboard Skills II or III. Such students still have to take the Keyboard Proficiency Exam during one of the regular testing periods.

The keyboard study at TCNJ is very rigorous, so it is highly recommended that one be enrolled in this first level even if s/he has had one semester of study at another institution. If a student has had less than one year of keyboard (or piano) study, they should simply register for Keyboard Skills I. If a student has had more than one year of keyboard (or piano) study, but has had no substantial study in music theory, it is still recommended that s/he register for Keyboard Skills I. Please note that placement in these courses depends more on an application of one’s knowledge of music theory onto keyboard, and far less on piano repertoire study, which tends to be the main focus of the traditional piano private instructions.
One does NOT need to take the Placement Audition in order to register for Keyboard Skills I.

Students Who Have Had No Previous Keyboard Training

Those who have no previous keyboard experience are encouraged to get started before the school year. The required textbooks for Keyboard Skills I include:

Additionally, a remedial keyboard skills class (MUS 103: Class Piano for Non-Majors) is offered during the fall semesters. This is a non-required class that freshmen may take on a voluntary basis in prior to the first required Keyboard Skills class that is taken in the second semester.
